"Jodhamal Youth Conclave has ever lasted its glory through the years. Founded in 2018, it has acquired its stature of one of the largest and most prestigious youth conferences of North India"

Since its inception in 2018, Jodhamal Youth Conclave has been one of the most prominent MUN conferences in the northern circuit. It has always strived to present the crux of real world problems to the harbingers of change, today's youth.

This year, JYC returns with the essence of the phrase "Bridging the World, One Conference at a Time", encapsulating the transformative power of the Conclave, where minds converge, ideas flourish, and collaborations are forged to address the pressing challenges of our times. JYC has been through thick and thin, overcoming internal as well as external crises with power and grace.

TO ANOTHER
YEAR AT JYC...

Each year, JYC sets the next year's expectations higher, showcasing intricately planned committee proceedings, profound debates, entertaining socials, and ever-lasting memories. Annually, JYC is the talk of the town, everybody's favourite topic of gossip (Hints to the Gossip Guy ;)). In this dynamic exchange, borders dissolve, and the mosaic of human knowledge expands to encompass new horizons. As participants share their knowledge and opinions, they collectively shape the contours of the future. Committees facilitate deliberations about emerging technologies, scientific breakthroughs, policy reforms, and social paradigms. Delegates with portfolios from various corners of the globe will bring with them not only their expertise but also their cultural identities.

MUNBELIEVABLE

Alongside the marvellous faculty, JYC is executed by a vivid Secretariat, composed of deserving students from 9th-12th standards. Jodhamal Youth Conclave is bound to leave an impression in the hearts of many, and its legacy of providing one of the best platforms for debates and discussions will continue to persist without exception. JYC is the incarnation of the human spirit that is capable of kindling a beacon of hope that illuminates the path toward a brighter future even in the darkest of times.

Embracing the idiom, "The whole is greater than the sum of its Parts", the team behind JYC works tirelessly to provide a stellar experience for delegates and guests alike. JYC has the privilege to be organized under the Conference Director, Ms. Deepmala, whose constant guidance and support have made JYC what it is today.

This just in, JYC is back on. It seems like these MUNs never go on vacation, they take the highway and head east to the Castle de Jodhamal, this very building. Let's start on this thought, how to make gossip dramatic? ALL it needs the right person at the wrong place, or in our case several right people at all wrong places, our directorate. Their favourite hobby you ask? gaslighting themselves into being the Kardashians, just much more scandalous. And you, You consider me, your person on the inside, your conference confidant with all the chaos and gossip on his fingertips (literally). When you turn the blinds shut, its lies wide open. So maybe not indulge in blasphemies in the teachers lounge, cause my eyes are never shut, never. For, drama is never existing, it's always created and in most cases, the creator is not involved. The ruling class, AKA, the directorate might get some hints, well I'd be brutally honest those awkward smiles are through the whispers of your own "friends". On the lines of friends, do these brats care about anything else except themselves to their narcissism just slays? Pro tip: if you want better committees, maybe try researching, rather than stressing on which shade of dunks go with your ugly kurtas, cause none of them go well. And good for me, the wholes conference is said to be a fashion faux-pas apocalypse. You guys are in desperate need of a stylist; hire one. I'll give you the contact. To get things started around here all these little birdies tell me that there is a lot of trouble in the paradise, but I can't reveal too much, we still have a weekend to go over. And that's big. One thing if you know me, secrets that I hold in my heart, are harder to hide than I thought. And who am I? That's one secret I'll never tell, the only one. You will love me.

Just got the news, The Gossip Guy is back online!!

XOXO

It's the meeting of politicians, it is the meeting of chaos. Voicing their opinion for the country, some for power and others for faith. In the midst of the chaos, shalt the meeting prosper its way through successfully completing its very mission.

Through the globe of future, my eyes see light, there is fire all around the room. A person well maybe, left all out to die. There is chaos in the committee and crying going round. This also states the change of power that might not be a compromise. And everything has to be published. Everything.

Wishing stars align again. All above and beyond, where space and time wrap into nothingness. War is nature, not bounded by territories or even space. That peace can be bought. The countries will make pacts and shake hands, cause the divinity of ethos is preserved by peace. Yet, only coming together would solve those problems, tells me that wise old man.

Those golden fortune teller wrote the letters to me. The countries that make laws, will benefit the most, the allies to form will perplex through. In the most righteous form, protect rights, protect citizens, protect integrity.

Through my crystal, I see a turmoil of a world. This chair's parliament would be on fire, quite literally. The war is prevalent, but how far shalt it go? Would the diplomacy of the nations prove to resolve an institution embedded through civilisations ?

My predictions stay still at the most perplexing face of the Indian diplomacy. When those small talks embellish through the fireballs of debate. Where allies would be made, and the opposition would take control of faith. Where politicians would switch sides faster than the flow of birds, all in the name of-

As the dust settles on the final hours of Jodhamal Youth Conclave, we couldn't resist extending our heartfelt gratitude for making it such a roaring success. Your participation in JYC was a symphony of intellect and diplomacy, and we're left in awe of your abilities to navigate through intricate issues with such grace. To say it was a pleasure to watch you all in action would be an understatement. You've demonstrated the power of discourse, the art of persuasion, and the value of camaraderie.

So here's to you, the architects of yet another successful edition of JYC! Your enthusiasm was our driving force, and your zest for debate created an unforgettable atmosphere. Let's cherish the memories we've made and the skills we've honed. Until we meet again in the world of international and political relations, keep your diplomatic passports ready!

Thank You

PARTICIPATION THROUGH THE YEARS...
